7-9 pm

Albany Friends Meeting

727 Madison Avenue, Albany 12208

Friends for Racial Healing have found that stories provide an excellent way to bring understanding and insights to the diversity of our community. Sometimes the stories are funny and sometimes they make us cry, they always bring us joy in being together.

Our guest teller, Sandy Powell, is a member of the Friends for Racial Healing Committee, which is a subcommittee of the Friends for Racial Justice. They use stories as a medium to share, inspire, educate and open space for true understanding about the deeper issues of racism and its impact.

FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC
